Much interest is being taken in the Blood Donor Clinic — Grimsby's own — to be held in Trinity hall on Wednesday afternoon, June 23, from three until six o'clock.

While Grimsby people have made 412 blood donations in the past two years, they have had to travel to Hamilton to do so. That is all over now. Henceforth the clinics will be held right here in Grimsby.

Much information of interest to donors and prospective donors is contained in the following list of "Questions and Answers" on the subject, issued by the Blood Donor Service of the Canadian Red Cross: Why Does the Canadian Red Cross Need Blood?

Dried serum can only be made from human blood. This serum is needed in very large quantities for the treatment of members of our Armed Forces as well as civilians who are war casualties. Canadian dried blood serum is now being used on all fighting fronts.

Peach Orchard Is Fish Aquarium

Orchard of Frank Durham Under Two Feet of Water And Carp Abound by Hundreds.

There is one fruit grower in this district whose peach crop may not amount to much when picking time comes, but at the present moment his peach orchard is bearing a mighty big crop of fish.

Frank Durham, Lake street, has a peach orchard below the bank, on a level with the land in the harbour. The very high water of the lake has caused the harbour water to rise accordingly and at the moment this peach orchard is flooded with two or more feet of water and in that water swimming around are hundreds of carp of all sizes.

If the fish were only whitefish or salmon Frank would be able to make several big hauls and the revenue would no doubt be far greater than what he would receive from a peach crop.

Nixon Hall Will House Farm Girls

Century Old Colonial Home Will Serve 42 Girls From All Sections of Ontario — Idyllic Setting.

Nixon Hall, the old Adolphus Pettit home, west of town, will be the summertime residence of 42 Ontario girls, who have volunteered to spend their holidays weeding gardens, hoeing corn, and helping with farm crops and the fruit harvest. Some of the girls, mostly high school students, arrived yesterday and were filled with admiration of this stately old colonial home.

Twenty girls from areas as far apart as Cochrane, Toronto, and Amherst are expected this week and a quota will soon be reached, says J. R. MacDiarmid, director, under the supervision of the local Y.W.C.A.

"The girls are arriving a month earlier this year, and will stay a month later." Miss MacDiarmid continued, "although we will not have as many as last year. The season is very backward, and the

FLOWER LOVER MEETS DEATH BENEATH WHEELS OF COACH

Dr. Donald Clark Struck Down While Crossing Intersection of Paton And Main Streets Wheels Pass Over Body.

IN HIS 81ST YEAR

Had Practiced Dentistry For 53 Years — 22 Years in Grimsby — Great Bowler And Curier — Tulips Were His Hobby.

Grimsby district was greatly shocked and grieved on Thursday afternoon last, to hear of the untimely death of Dr. Donald Clark. Dr. Clark had been down town with his little granddaughter for the evening paper and to make some small purchases. They had returned to his home on Paton street, and then it was found that they had left one of their parcels in Joe's Restaurant, where they had purchased ice cream cones, and the Doctor came back down street for it.

Good Tories Live Up To Tradition

Wear a Small Maple Leaf in Their Coat Lapel on 52nd Anniversary of Great Leader's Death.

Fifty-two years ago last Sunday — June 6th, 1891 — the death occurred in Kingston, Ont., of Sir John A. Macdonald, K.C.B., first Prime Minister of Canada.

For many years after his death all good Tories throughout the Dominion, on the anniversary of his death, wore in their coat lapel a small Maple Leaf, out of respect to their great leader.

In latter years this formality has died out to some extent, but Grimsby still has two good Tories who on Sunday last lived up to tradition. They being Mayor Eddie H. Johnson and Mr. Mayor Robert H. Lewis. It was noted that they had small Maple Leaves in the button hole of their coat lapels.

Navy Boys Stage Great Show

Detachment From H. M. C. S. "Star" Help to Boost Navy League Tag Day to a Total of $350 — a Great Piece of Work.

The streets of Grimsby and Grimsby Beach resounded to the tread of marching feet on Saturday afternoon last and what a smart, clean cut, keen eyed detachment of young sons of Canada those marchers were.

They were the detachment of men from H. M. C. S. "Star" of Hamilton, who came to Grimsby to assist the local Navy League put over its first tag day, and that they helped no little bit goes without saying.

In command of Sub-Lieut. Morgan and P.O. Mohrhardt, they made a wonderfully smart showing, despite the fact that this particular detachment has only been in active training for the short period of two weeks.

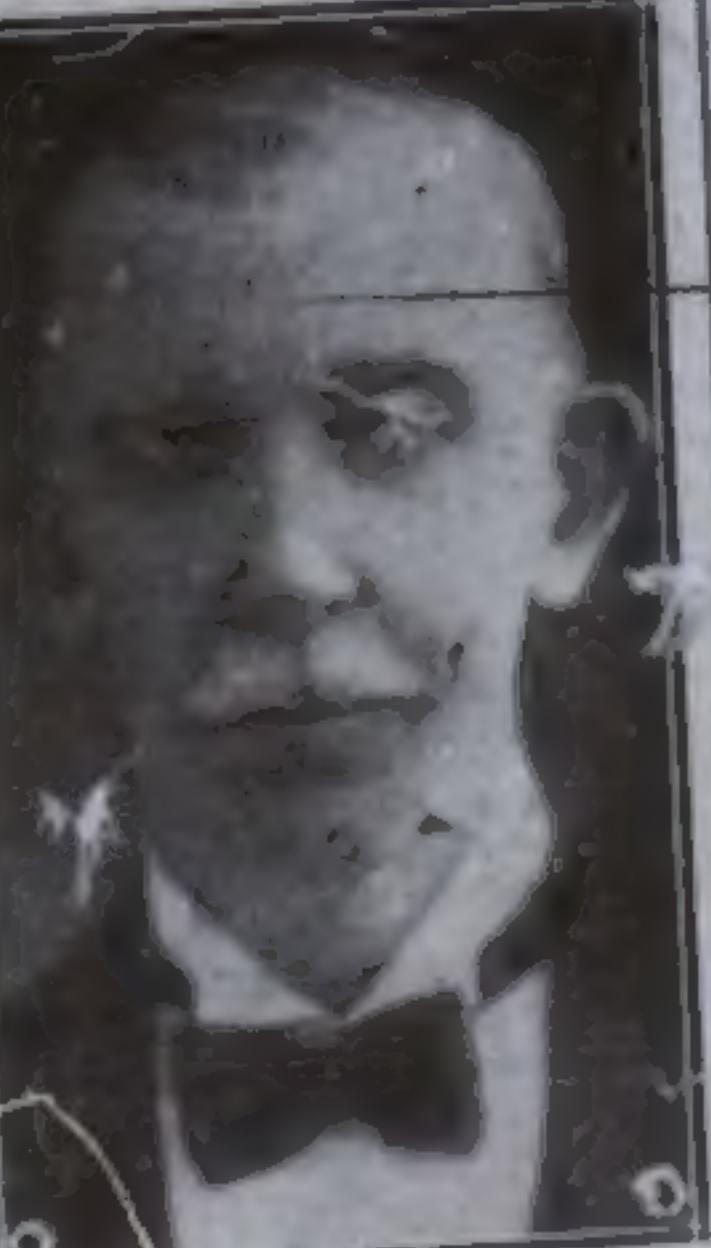

Shortly after two o'clock they arrived and fell in at the Village Inn.

Led by the Colour Party of West Lincoln Branch, Canadian Legion, they moved off down Elizabeth street, across Adelaide street and thence south on Depot street to the Post Office where they were officially welcomed by Mayor Eddie H. Johnson, who congratulated them upon their fine appearance and wished them well in the many hazards that they will encounter in the days to come.

A few days ago Sid Bellin another surprise meeting, this time with an old Canadian chum, George Robertson, who has left a wife and nine children in Grimsby, Ontario, to come to the Old Country, where he is serving in the Canadian Forestry Corps.

Under Bert Mohrhardt the detachment went through a drill that showed clearly the high type of training that they are receiving and the eager manner in which they accept it.

Three Old Buddies Meet Overseas

Grimsby Soldier Has Reunion With Pals of Other Days — Columnist Calls it a Romantic Meeting.

A reunion of three old pals took place in Weston-super-Mare, Somersetshire, England in April, that is just one of many instances in which Canadian soldiers are concerned, since the First Canadian Corp landed overseas in 1939.

This reunion concerns several Grimsby people, the principal one being Pte. George Robertson, overseas with the forestry battalion.

All three had been pals in England before the last war.

Then after the war one of them came to Canada and resided in Grimsby for some time and George and he were pals. Now all three have met again in the Old Land.

The reunion was of such a nature that a columnist on the Weston-super-Mare Gazette, writes in his column, as follows:

Three Musketeers

Strange and unexpected meetings of old friends — a far corner of the globe seems to be becoming an everyday occurrence with one Weston-super-Mare man.

Just before Christmas, I recounted the re-union Mr. Sid Bellin, local bus driver and boxing promoter, had with Harry Whitham, a "Digger" who paid a chance visit to Weston-super-Mare.

This Australian recently visited Weston, whom he had met nearly 20 years ago when they were both attending a Test cricket match at Melbourne. At that time, Sid was a road engineer in the Commonwealth.

A few days ago Sid had another surprise meeting, this time with an old Canadian chum, George Robertson, who has left a wife and nine children in Grimsby, Ontario, to come to the Old Country, where he is serving in the Canadian Forestry Corps.

The re-union was the more romantic for the reasons that

Bonds Issued in 1919 For $112,000 For Hydro Radial Railways Have Been Destroyed by Provincial Treasurer — Project Fell Through.

At Town Council meeting on Wednesday night, council accepted the offer of George Evoy of Ottawa of $2,540, for the Anderson brick house and vacant land on the north side of Main street east. A down payment of $500 being made.

Mr. Evoy is one of the partners of the E. D. H. firm which will soon commence construction work on the first unit of a new manufacturing plant on the west side of Elizabeth street. It is Mr. Evoy's intention to convert the present large residence into four apartments and to erect one new house on the property this year, two new houses on the east portion of the land next year and to remove the present barn to another location and convert it into a living house. The amount paid for the property is the total sum that the town has in it.

Council received a pleasant surprise when Clerk Bourne reported that he had received notification from the Provincial Treasurer of Ontario that the bonds issued in 1919 for $112,000, on behalf of the

Great Improvement To Hydro Offices

Old Partitions Torn Out — New Counter Gives More Room For Business — Accommodations Provided For Customers.

At long last, Grimsby's Hydro office looks like a place of business.

Alterations, under supervision of the local Hydro Commissioners, were completed last week and the office now resembles closely the foyer of a bank.

A new plate glass window replaces the old broken one and all the old white painted wooden and glass partitions have been removed.

A new covered counter now runs the width of the building east and west, a good 10 feet away from the door entrances.

This gives at least three times the space in the customers' foyer than existed before. Also a high desk, much the same as the one in the Bank of Commerce is provided for customers to write upon. Also a couple of chairs for ladies to sit in.

The office is now much brighter than before and a far more pleasant place for the customers and the staff to do business in.

Open Local Fund For Greek Relief

Contributions Will be Accepted by Canadian Bank of Commerce — People Are Dying By Thousands of Starvation.

A local branch of the Greek Relief Fund has been opened in Grimsby. This fund is seeking a half a million dollars from the people of Canada during the period from June 1st to Sept. 1st.

Citizens of this district may hand in their contributions to the Canadian Bank of Commerce and they will be forwarded to the headquarters of the fund.

"Ninety-five per cent of the Greeks people have nothing left unless more food arrives and the children are able to remain open, the entire Greek nation is in danger of perishing," says a writer who recently visited the Axis-occupied country and concluded: "No man has looked into the face of ultimate horror unless he has seen Greece today — a whole nation brought to its knees to writh in filth and expire of hunger."

Stark pictures of mothers dying, emaciated children too weak to cry, are painted in the story reprinted by permission of the American Mercury. Here are extracts:

"I made the round of Athens. Our first stop was a dispensary, the waiting room full of mothers

Medical Officer Issues Warning

Prohibits Swimming in The Lake Between Pump House And The Hand Fish Houses — Extremely Dangerous Spot.

Dr. J. H. Macmillan, Medical Officer of Health for Grimsby has given strict warning that no person, children or adults, particularly children, shall go swimming in the lake at the point between the fence erected at the pump house, east past the fish houses of the Hand boys.

The extremely high water of the lake has washed away the sand strip and undermined the old town dump thus making this stretch of water for bathing very unsanitary and very dangerous owing to large holes that have been made by the washing out of the big willow trees at that point and the undertows.

Also the fence erected at the pump house has strands of barbed wire along the top of it and children who attempt to climb over the fence will get severely injured.

Remember there is to be no swimming between the fence at the pump house east to the Hand fish houses.

Salary Increases Given Teachers

High School Pay Schedule to Run From $1,500 to $2,000 Per Year — Public School Teachers From $400 to $1,200.

After much deliberation, Grimsby Board of Education in session on Monday evening passed a resolution granting the teachers of the two schools a new schedule of salaries.

Under this new set up the minimum for High School assistant teachers will be $1,500 per year with a maximum of $2,000. Public school assistant teachers will receive a minimum of $400 and a maximum of $1,200.

No increase in pay was granted the two Principals but they were granted a cost of living bonus of $100 for the year. The new schedule goes in effect with the opening of the fall term in September.

The following is the resolution: "In view of the present unsettled

GRIMSBY HAS LOST A CITIZEN

Grimsby last week suffered the loss of a citizen that it could ill afford. The sudden and untimely end of Dr. Donald Clark came as a shock that tightened the nerves and froze the blood. It was unbelievable, but too true. The Great Being of All Had Reached Down and Taken His Son Above.

Dr. Clark was an exemplary citizen. A man who believed in the development of all civic enterprises. A man who loved sport of all kinds for sports sake, not for gain or greed. A man who could see humor in a situation where the average human being would grow a grouch. A man who loved flowers and animals, but had no animosity against the man who did not. A man who loved his home and wanted every other man to love him; if he didn't have one, to try and attain one. A man who was—well folks, he was just a God's Honest Man.

That's the Citizenship side of it. Now I'll tell you my side of it. I rode that old H. G. & B. with "Doc" Clark, so did hundreds of other kids in this district from Beamsville to Bartonville switch.

We all rode the 7.10 a.m. out of Beamsville, the 7.40 out of Grimsby and the 7.45 out of Dr. Clark's, and there never was a motorman that left him behind. We kids were all going to business college in Hamilton, and we all crowded into the smoker, where we really had no business being, but "Doc" Clark was there. Sitting up in the corner, pipe emanating smoke rings, he regaled us with many a story. Many a piece of advice that has served me, and I believe has served others, in the years that have passed.

Then out of Hamilton, the old 4.10. When it pulled out "Doc" would check the kids. If there were any missing he wanted to know. The odd time he would miss it himself, and it is the truth, us kids wanted to know.

As the years went on I grew to know the "Doc" better and many a word of wisdom and bit of friendly advice he gave me, which I can honestly say I have profited by.

Grimsby has lost an exemplary citizen. I have lost a real, true friend.

A NICE MESS IN ONTARIO

Is there actually such a thing as an Ontario government?

Many people all over the province are asking this question, and rightly so.

As matters stand now the newly elected holder of the Premie's seat, Harry Nixon, is nothing more than a Puppet Premier. The real power behind the Ontario throne is down in Ottawa. Every time that Willie King, the creator of the Valley of Humiliation, barks, Nixon jumps through the hoop.

King wanted an election. Nixon is giving it to him. An election that the Liberal members in the House four months ago said they did not want, when they voted a year's extension to the life of the government.

An election that the people as a whole do not want. There are some who do, sure, but they are only political ward heelers who see another golden opportunity to feather their nests.

An election that will cost this province well over a million dollars. Money that would be better spent buying bullets or medical supplies for the fighting forces.

We not only are going to have an election but we are having foisted upon us, particularly our men and women in uniform the most iniquitous deal that has never been heard of in the history of Canadian politics. The doing away with the secret ballot insure as far as the fighting forces overseas are concerned.

Shades of Sir John A. MacDonald and Sir Wilfrid Laurier!

Our men and women on the battle fronts will be asked to vote by proxy. Who ever heard tell of such a thing in a democratic country, such as we claim Canada is.

You all read the newspapers and by now should be familiar with the purported workings of this dastardly system. You have all formed your own conclusions on the matter. I am ready to gamble that not 10 per cent of the citizens in the two provinces agree with it.

Is it sensible to suppose that if I, a booted in oil Tory, were to receive some of these proxies that I would take them and vote for the Liberal candidate, or the C.C.F. standard bearer. Would you bet money, that if certain hard shelled Grits in this town and country received proxies, that they would go and vote them for a Conservative candidate. No. Neither one of us would and that condition will exist all over the province, and yet the boy who is doing the fighting will not have his opinion expressed, as he rightfully should have.

Nixon and King and all the rest of crew should be proud of that fact that they are foisting an unwanted election on the people of this province and should be doubly proud of the fact that they are taking away from our Democratic fighting forces, their first principle of Democracy.—The Secret Ballot.

A MARRIED MAN

We are indebted to George Carver, sage philosopher of the Belleville Ontario Intelligencer, for the following:

1. My wife is my boss. I shall not deny it.
2. She maketh me lie down under the car to see why it ratteth and she leadeth me to every antique sale she hears about.
3. She restoreth my pocketbook after she hath spent all its contents for knee-high skirts and movie tickets. She leadeth me up the main aisle of the church for her new hat's sake.
4. Yea, though I walk through every store trying to find a new shoulder strap for her old handbag. I get no rest, for she is behind me with a lashing tongue that does anything but comfort me.
5. She prepareth a cold snack for me from a can, then she maketh a bee line for Mothers' Domestic Science Club. She arms runneth over with bundles before she is half through with her shopping.
6. Surely, her dressmaker's and her millinery bills shall follow me all the days of my life, and I will dwell in the house with my wife forever.

CHILDHOOD MEMORY

To the imagination of childhood, says The Living Word, there was a fearful fascination about Mr. Hawkins. As the town butcher, he had direct relations with death, sharing his distinction with the family doctor and the undertaker; but Mr. Hawkins looked his part. Off duty, the doctor was a friend of the family, while nobody could be a more cheerful person than the undertaker, when he was performing his secondary function of selling American oak furniture.

Recollection of Mr. Hawkins brings no picture of him off duty. He is inseparable from his shop. There he could be found early or late, except when he was reserved for slaystressing. He was a burly man, with a black mustache, arms that would have done credit to a village blacksmith, and a white apron streaked with the blood of his victims. A small boy gave his order to Mr. Hawkins respectfully, for one never knew that he might not try the edge of his cleaver on a human neck, if he was annoyed.

Actually he was a kind-hearted man. The custom was that an odd copper in change belonged to the child doing the errand, and Mr. Hawkins always saw that the odd copper was forthcoming. Otherwise, the art of deftness that he displayed with his knife was not transferred to the stabby and frequent moistened pencil with which he figured out the cash side of each transaction.

Peace to his ashes! Gratitude for many an all-day sucker and liquorice stick makes one of his former customers thankful. Mr. Hawkins never had to struggle with the intricacies of the test charts provided for the guidance of retail butchers by the wisdom of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

He could understand the diagrams of a side of beef, but the instructions for calculating prices and percentages would have broken his spirit. One can picture him reading again and again the sentence: "The test chart is based on the formula that per cent x cents per pound equals $ per hundred-weight." He scratches his head, pushes back his derby hat, studies the chart again, looks towards the polite representative of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board who is trying to explain it to him. Then Mr. Hawkins' hand reaches for his cleaver, and the curtain falls.

WE BELIEVE IT

From the Chicago Daily News we learn that it is believed the first newspaper was published in China in 718 A.D., and two days later Old Subscriber wrote in, letting the editor know how to conduct his sheet.

We believe that. Every word of it, because long experience in newspaper work has impressed its truth upon us, opines the Editor of The Safford Expositor.

Why, just two or three weeks ago we wrote something about the weather—absolutely true at the time it was written too—but we have regretted it ever since.

Now we have been accused by letter, by phone and by word of mouth, of setting the weather man against the country at large. Of flooding the land and delaying the seeding and things like that. One fellow phoned from his home the night the paper reached him—and, possibly it was the first night in a month he had spent in the home—to say that what we didn't know about the weather, would take more than The Expositor to tell.

Others have told us about the same thing in many different ways, so now we are off the weather. We feel like leaving it alone. In fact, we feel that about the only consistent friends we have had for quite some time are the free advertisers.

Away Back When

Frank Fairborn, Jr.

From the minutes of the village council of 1877, Andrew Randall, proprietor of the Mansion House, (Grandfather of Miss Edna Randall), was in the bad graces of the village fathers for feeding Rinerant adriggots without an order from the Reeve. His bill for $2 was ordered not paid until the matter be duly investigated and furthermore the council would not pay for a tramps grub if the meal cost more than twelve-and-a-half cents. The sum must have been living high previous to that.

In 1877 a man named William Underhill ran the village bakery and on April first of that year some person or persons unknown, left a baby on his doorstep. It was presumed at that time that it was just a foohah April Fool joke, but such was not the case, for we find that the matter was up for discussion at the council meeting on April fourth when a motion was passed that "Squire Forbes be authorized to make such arrangements for the care of the child as may be found necessary and that he employ a constable or a detective to investigate into the circumstances, to find out the party or parties leaving the guilty parties were, my records do not show.

In '77 Hugh H. Anderson was tax collector and pound keeper without salary and John K. Duvall was appointed constable and Board of Health without remuneration. At the September meeting of this year the whole council was appointed a committee to buy a fire engine. October meeting of council was not held as the members were all busy every night cows milking. At the December meeting a bylaw was introduced to prohibit the running of large of swine, horses, bulls, or rams. Apparently the females of the species had special privileges then.

At the January 1878 meeting of council E. M. Michell was appointed Village Clerk in the stead of Jas. A. Randall. W. F. Clarke was appointed Assessor at a salary of $5 per year. Tavern license fees were raised from $60 to $60 per year. Grimsby had three at that time. The village books were kept at the home of the clerk and carried to and from meetings in a tin box. In April of this year a by-law was brought before council for the issuance of debentures for the purchase of a new fire engine. The by-law was voted upon by the citizens on May 8th and carried.

On the morning of June 20th, 1879, the agricultural works of John H. Grout, and Co., situated where the Baptist Church now stands, burned to the ground, and that same night the citizens held a public meeting at which a resolution was passed asking council to consider the granting of a $1,000 bonus to the company. Council met two days later and discussed the matter but took no action until October when a by-law was introduced and submitted to the taxpayers on November 1st and carried by an almost unanimous vote. A few days later council ratified the by-law and the debentures were sold and the money paid over on December 5th. In the meantime the Grout Company had gone ahead building what is now known as The Independent Building and adjacent buildings and the first heat in the new foundry moulding shop was taken off on Christmas Eve, of 1879.

August 30th will be the 107th anniversary of the first real total abstinence society in Upper Canada. For seven years the province had been stirred up against the excessive consumption of liquor by emissaries from a society founded at Montreal in 1828, to whom were added most of the Methodist and Baptist preachers, a majority of whom were from the United States. The seed was first sown at a meeting in Bastard Township in what we would call the Brockville district and the harvest was quick; indeed it was asserted that in 1832 there were at least 100 societies in Upper Canada; but until August 30, 1836, when a regional conference was held in the Presbyterian church at St. Catharines, where delegates were presented from Thorold, Lundys Lane, Pelham, Grimsby, Smithville, Beamsville, Grantham, Gainsboro, Niagara, Allandale and St. Catharines, which town was in the front rank, among an African Temperance society working among the fugitive slaves. That convention adopted pretty drastic resolutions, not only a personal total abstinence pledge for its members, but hints that tradesmen, especially grocers, who continued to sell liquor would be refused trade.

This St. Catharines convention was followed on September 28, 1836, by a convention at Toronto when plans were laid for a federation of all the existing societies and extension of the work. Unfortunately, within a year came the Mackenzie uprising and the temperance movement was set back a full decade, rather an ironical consequence, for licensing was always a plank in the platform of the Mackenzie Reformers.

HOPE FOR "DUTCH" SHANTS
St. Peter was sad and weary.
For years he had stood by the gate,
He had listened to stories and pleadings,
Life stories of love and of hate.

He turned them all down in a jiffy.
Ah failed when it came to the test,
While many had lived fairly decent,
Yet no one had lived at his best.

The work for the day was near over,
St. Peter looked tired and thin,
He'd sent a multitude down below,
But many a soul passed in.

But hold! "How's this?" St. Peter cried.
As a quiet soul stood trembling,
"What hast thou done of bad or good
Or anything worth remembering?"

The spirit spoke with husky voice,
"I know I cannot pass,
For I was called the meanest man—
I supplied the people gnar."

St. Peter stood silent and thoughtful.
But at last he said with a grin,
"You've had trouble enough for one poor soul,
So I guess I'll let you in."

God's Great Promises

Scripture Reading—2nd Peter 1:1-11. Golden Text, Verse 4.

The Historical Setting

It is believed that Peter was taken to Rome as a prisoner A.D. 67, and after a period of imprisonment was crucified with his head downward. This letter of our lesson was written shortly before he died.

An Introduction to the Lesson

The Lord had told Peter that he would die as a martyr in the cause of the Gospel (John 21:18, 19). Before giving up his ministry he wrote this last epistle to the scattered believers whom he loved so well. The safety of the believers was to be found in cleaving to the word of God and growing in grace and in the knowledge of Christ. Even the most sincere Christians are apt to become self-complacent and to settle down, forgetting that we must be ever on the alert if we would really count for God, whose precious promises are given to cheer and encourage us on our grim way.

The Heart of the Lesson

The Christian life should be one of continual growth. We grow as we live upon the precious promises God has given to His word. To ignore or neglect the Bible means a fruitless life in His service. They who abide in all the graces mentioned in our lesson will be neither idle nor fruitless, but will ever increase in loving service and devotion to Christ, and will be used in blessing to those with whom they come in contact.

Application

Twice in our lesson, in verses 5 and 10, we are exhorted to give diligence. We need to be on our guard against spiritual lethargy and to be ever alert to the opportunities given us for growth in the kingdom of God.

CANADIAN FIREFIGHTERS HOME

A recent arrival home from Great Britain is Canadian Fire-fighter Robert Downie of Hamilton. Downie was prominent as a Cubmaster before the war and engaged in Scouting activities in England. He suffered two broken arms in an air raid and was invalided home. While in England he visited the four "Blitz Scouts" who toured Canada during the summer of 1942.

Ascension Thursday

Last Thursday morning we climbed up the mountainside where there was no path—because it was too slippery there. As we stopped to rest (between a small curved up snake on one side and a small trailer on the other) on a shelf of limestone that juts from the face of the old quarry, suddenly the bell of St. Andrew's began to ring.

"So we may also in heart and mind thither ascend, and with Him continually dwell." It seemed to say. The words were from the Collect for Ascension Thursday.

In heart and mind continually to dwell with Him could, in the outcome, result in one end, the total extinction of all the evil that assails the souls and bodies of men.

You don't have to climb very high on Grimsby Mountain to be above the world.

Return Of The Spinning Wheel

Our genial editor has placed a clipping on our desk which tells of the return of the spinning wheel to its daily labour in farm and village homes of Quebec. The reason for this is the scarcity of cotton and wool for domestic use resulting from the war. So the spinning wheel and its appurtenances have been brought down from the mansard (attic to you and me), and mother and the girls are turning out the family rag bag for wool and cotton garments that can be reproduced. This work, done at home, results in 90% of the garment being salvaged, whereas a manufacturer can salvage only 40 to 45%.

Every woman who came to New France from 1627 onward brought her spinning wheel with her. When it came time for her daughters to marry and set up housekeeping a spinning wheel was part of the standard equipment of the new home. It was the work of the village carpenter who in many cases also made the tables and chairs, and much other household gear. The maple, pine and beech, used in the making, was the product of the paternal acres, cut down when the farm was first cleared, sawed into lumber and stacked in the open for years to cure.

It would not be surprising to find that many of those first spinning wheels, passed on from mother to daughter, were in existence today and capable of turning out a first-class job, for the French-Canadians, a thrifty people, took good care of the things they had. This last phrase has a familiar ring. The exhortation to "take good care of the things we have," coupled with the gentle warning that it may be a long time before we get any more, is one we hear and read every day.

Spinning is one of the oldest and most romantic of domestic arts.

It was an art confined to no class; the wife and daughters of king and peasant alike manipulated the spindle and distaff, and even goddesses did not disdain the gentle art. The famous Dacca muslins of India, popular for party frocks when the great East India Company was at the height of its power, and often mentioned in novels dealing with the period, were woven of yarn so fine that one pound of cotton was spun into a thread nearly 200 miles long.

Horse and buggy days are back, they say. Now here is the spinning wheel. What next?

Insurance Against Drought

In the dog-days—from the middle of July to the middle of August—the average garden in the locality of Grimsby is apt to be an arid desert. The hose is very little use for it fails to reach the root of the matter. The garden has reached a climax in its career and lies exhausted, a prey to the merciless heat. The prevailing wind for the past seven years, a hot, high and dry south-easter, adds to the scene of desolation.

To tide the garden graciously over this period let us consult the authorities to discover what annuals will flourish under Sahara Desert conditions.

Come to find out, there are quite a number. Portulaca, that covers the ground with many-tinted blossoms, is one of the best, particularly the single kind. It's a self-seeder, too, but better results are obtained by sowing the seed of the earliest flowers (mark them carefully, so you can find them as soon as they ripen) for planting next spring. This bit of wisdom applies to most annuals. The dwarf marigold known as Tagetes pumila; California poppy; plenty-of-white Alyssum, without growing annuals, and they all can take a lot of adversity with a smile.

Now for some taller flowers, and most of these are good for cutting. Star of the Veldt (look it up in your catalogue under Dimorphotheca surinamica) is well-liked; stock, the tea weeks kind preferably; West sultan, which the children like to call "Queen Mary's cushion"; calendula, faithful until snow flies; centaurea; corydalis; variety of colour combinations; marigold, both French and African; and alstroemeria, the "Velvet Trumpet Flower," will all help to keep the garden going through the tired times.

You may like a few giants in the background to stand guard. There are several varieties of flowers, ranging all the way from three to fourteen feet in height. Perilla (nankinensis) grows about three feet tall and makes an excellent backdrop for flowering plants. Don't forget Lavatera trimestris, of the Mallow tribe, or dahlia, daucus common.

If you've never grown acanthus, known as "Poor Man's Orange," try some. You might like E. Bartramii acaules, with yellow blossoms, as its name indicates, would like a chance to show what it can do. So would Euwallacea acaules, of neat, compact growth, which comes in blue or white and has very fine foliage.

With these in the garden, there'll be no shortage of fill flowers for the house or for exchange with the neighbours. And don't forget that nice people like cuttings from somebody else's garden, even though there may be plenty in their own.

"Down Rushed The Rain Impetuous"

"For the rain it raineth every day

On both the just and unjust faler;
But mostly on the just, because the unjust
Swipes the Just's umbrella."

Shakespeare is responsible for the first line of this poem, but the writer of the last three is unknown to us. We feel safe in saying it was not Shakespeare. For one thing, umbrellas were not in common use as rain-protectors until as far along as 1852 when Samuel Fox patented the "Paragon" rib, although they were of entirely unknown in the 17th century. The names "Fox" and "Paragon" still stand for lightness, strength and ability in umbrellas. Before that, the umbrella was a very clumsy contraption with ribs and structures of whalebone and a heavy covering. In 1748 William Langley patented an umbrella as an umbrella covering.

Jacobean, English traveller and philanthropist, who died in 1786, was said to be the first Englishman who habitually carried an umbrella, which he did in spite of the hooting and hollering of the London cabmen.

The umbrella plays an important part in English literature; Dickens especially is full of references to this weapon of defence and prop of dignity. The female of the species which appeared in due course, became known as a person and, as its name denotes, was used to parry the rays of the sun-god, Sol. In early, and again in mid-

Victorian times, it was not much larger than a good-sized dinner plate, but made up in 2 1/2's and embroidery what it lacked in size and utility.

The parasol, on the whole, shows little fondness for rain. One dares that they too often are. "I dreamed of water under cool, grey skies" is a line that often rises from the deep shining pool of memory places of the earth (not so far from Grimsby's Main Street, at that). Along with it comes a vision of the millpond on the lower edge of Anstey's village as you drive down its sloping street. The old mill, the trees reflected in the water, even on a cloudy day, and a pair or two of white ducks floating leisurely, sometimes with their small brood, is a mind-picture that can be counted on to ease the dry throat and cool the fevered brow on the doggiest of dog-days.

"I think the rain is as necessary to the mind as to vegetation," said John Burroughs, the naturalist. "My very thoughts become thirsty and crave the moisture." But with a twenty-four hour continuous service, such as we have recently emerged from, one's thoughts are apt to become blue-mouldy from the dampness.

It is from the caustic called Solomon's that we have the reassuring word—"the rain is over and gone; the flowers appear on the earth; the time of the singing of birds is come."

FAT IS AMMUNITION!

Fat and bone conservation begins at home and ends
in the firing line

- DO YOU KNOW -

One pound of fat supplies enough glycerine to fire 150 bullets from a Bren gun.

Two pounds of fat will fire a burst of 20 cannon shells from a Spitfire or 10 anti-aircraft shells.

Bones produce fat and aircraft glue.

If we saved fat at the rate of one ounce per person per week this would mean 36,000,000 pounds per year, enough to produce 3,600,000 pounds of glycerine for explosives.

OUR FIGHTERS DEPEND ON YOU

"Every householder who delivers to a retail butcher, collector, or Salvage Committee, any rendered or unrendered fats or bones shall be entitled to receive from the person to whom they are delivered 4 cents per pound net weight for rendered fats, and 1 cent per pound for unrendered fats."

The above paragraph is a direct quotation from Order A-642 of The Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

"Rendered fat" means fat melted down and strained to remove solid matter. It includes drippings and strained pan grease resulting from the cooking of meat.

"Unrendered fat" means raw or partially cooked fat free from lean meat and bones, but not fully rendered.

"Bones" means raw or cooked bones of cattle, sheep and hogs.

EVERY OUNCE COUNTS!

SAVE AND STRAIN EVERY DROP TO SPEED VICTORY. SELL IT TO YOUR BUTCHER OR GIVE IT TO YOUR SALVAGE COMMITTEE.

NOTICE TO BUTCHERS, HOTELS, ETC.

You have been mailed a copy of Order A-642. This Order affects caterers of hotels, restaurants and other establishments where meals are served. It is of immediate importance to butchers and slingers. If your copy has been lost, you can obtain another from the nearest office of The Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

His brother Archie who was a flyer in the 1914-18 "do" is on camp command at Belleville. These boys were the sons of the late R. J. and Mrs. Roetker, residents of Grimsby for many years and nephews of Mrs. L. R. Sutherland, Robinson street south.

Sewing machines in the Grimsby District will be kept busy this summer making up the 1200 garments on the quota recently received from Red Cross headquarters in Toronto. By way of variety a new quota of knitting has just come in, mostly for women's and children's garments, so if one requires relief from the whirr of the sewing machine, there is a pretty pillow to be made for little Mary or Tommy in the Old Land, and a shady porch in the afternoon or evening is just the ideal place to begin the new piece of knitting.

Owing to the shortage of wool, the long-sleeved sweaters formerly known as "turtlenecks" will have a one-inch ribbing only at the neckline, instead of the high, double turtleneck. No more khaki helmets are to be made for the present.

The Canadian Red Cross Society is now spending three-quarters of its budget, or $13,000,000 annually, on prisoners of war parcels. For this reason, local branches are now required to remit 85% of their receipts from entertainments, etc., to Toronto.

The monthly business meeting of Grimsby Red Cross Branch, originally scheduled for May 25th, was postponed to June 3rd because of the illness of the President, Mrs. R. N. Wolfenden.

JAM IN ENGLAND
Thornton Park War-Time
Day Nursery,
Kingsthorpe, Northampton, Eng.
16th May, 1943.

My dear Ladies:

I feel I must write to thank you all personally for the gift which I received at this nursery the other day, in the form of a jar of Peach Jam, sent via the Canadian Red Cross and made by you. The gift reached us through our Women's Voluntary Services at Nottingham.

I need hardly say how very much this gift is appreciated.

This is a nursery opened since last July, to accommodate during the day only, forty-six children under five years of age whose mothers are doing war-work in some form.

The children were most interested in the unpacking of the care van, which delivered the goods, and came across the sea on a big boat too!

I trust this short letter will reach the right destination, and again I wish to thank you most sincerely on behalf of the staff,

M. Drinkwater,
Matron-in-Charge.

Card of Thanks

I wish to take this opportunity to convey my sincere appreciation to my friends and neighbours for their kindness to me during my recent illness.

Mrs. James Scott, 12 Elizabeth Street.

Trinity W.A.

Members of Trinity W.A.'s Association had a busy afternoon at their meeting last Thursday at the home of Mrs. John M. M. Main street east. Seven large quilts and two -in quilts which had been put together and quilted during the winter months were bound, red and to be given to the Red Cross.

Mrs. T. L. Dyer and Mrs. L. Devine served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

The "Cent-a-Meal" boxes were brought in at this meeting and a goodly sum was realized.

Plans are being made for a picnic to be held in August, date and place to be announced later.

Conservation Tips

Wrap small pieces of newspaper around the stems of tomato plants when planting them to keep the cut worms from cutting off the top.

Lamb's quarter, a common garden weed, make a delicious green vegetable.

When serving hot meats be sure to have the platter hot too; a cold platter cools the meat.

Another good way to help win the scrap is to turn in all of your old scrap.

Since leaving that village he has been in the restaurant business in Sudbury and is now sojourning in St. Catharines. Seven camps for girls working on farms in Ontario, mostly in the fruit-growing sections of the Province, are already in operation, according to Alex McLaren, director of the Ontario Farm Service Force, under whose jurisdiction these camps are functioning. Four of these are government operated camps located at Millfield, Vineland, Fenwick and Kingville, while the other three are private camps at Jordan, Vineland and Dixie. The 175 girls in these camps have been at work on fruit farms for some weeks, tying grapes, working in greenhouses, and performing other tasks which are essential at this season of the year.

Fire Chief Turns Big Game Hunter

Full Grown Coon Was Parked on Top of Telephone Pole — Given Liberty After Being Captured.

Fire Chief LePage turned big game hunter for a few minutes last Thursday noon, but instead of using a gun he used a ladder off the fire truck and a stout pair of gloves.

An excited resident in the west end of the town called the Chief and informed him that a large sized coon or possum was parked on top of a telephone pole near St. Andrew's church.

The Chief and a couple of firemen responded and sure enough there was Mr. Coon on top of the pole. They placed the ladder up and at AM, starting skywards. At the same time the coon started backwards, backwards down the other side of the pole, when he came to some wires he lost his hold and fell with a thud to the concrete below.

He lay as if dead and some of the eyewitnesses thought that he was. They picked him up and threw him in the back of the truck, but in a jiffy he had revived and he gave the Chief a mighty struggle before being placed in a box.

He was brought down town and after resting a little while was given his liberty behind The Independent building and the last seen of him he was hiking, double forty, toward the mountain.

Salvage Will Buy Christmas Gifts

(Contributed)

Have you heard from your soldier boy, that he has received cigarettes or a parcel from our local organizations. You who will realize the importance of carrying on the salvage campaign through the summer months.

It is almost impossible to organize a collection again until after the fruit crop is harvested, and some help available. You who have cars or trucks will help this cause if you will bring your salvage to town when you are coming and leave it at the warehouse. Go one better and help your neighbour who has no car.

We hope to send out Christmas parcels to every boy from this district by October, so they will arrive in time for Christmas, and

We are glad to have any of the following, will you help bring them in: Rags; rubber; metals of any kind; paper in bundles, well tied; glass bottles, any color and any broken glass if clear.

Just a thank you for what you have done, is the name of our local boys who are being encouraged by our constant reminders in the way of parcels and cigarettes. Salvage costs nothing and means a lot, if everyone helps.

Legion Jottings

L. A. Bromley was advanced to the presidency of West Lincoln branch, Canadian Legion, last night, when Wm. V. Galbraith, formerly of Grimsby Beach, tendered his resignation owing to having moved from the district. Mr. Bromley was the first vice-president and will carry on as president for the balance of the term. Edward Rooker, second vice-president, assumed the duties of president and a nomination will probably be held to appoint a new second vice.

Wm. Rev. George Taylor-Munro and W. H. Holden as members, a committee was appointed to arrange a welcome for district men returning from overseas. The fact of 18 local lads coming home from 21 months overseas service last week without a welcome of any kind being extended to them was deplored. The committee has never failed to add to its number if desired.

The question of holding or disposing of the recently purchased Legion house was discussed at a later meeting.

Members of West Lincoln Canadian Legion accompanied by visiting members of the armed forces paraded to St. John's Presbyterian church last Sunday morning and heard an inspiring sermon by Rev. George Taylor-Munro.

YOUR BLOOD

Health, between the ages of 18 and 60.

How Do I Know Whether I am Physically Fit to Donate Blood?

When prospective donors arrive at a Blood Donor Clinic they are interviewed by a physician. If the donors are found to be under par they are advised to consult their family doctor.

How Much Blood Do I Donate? 450 cc which equals about 1/2 of a pint.

Do I Have to Go on a Special Diet Before Donations?

Only for the meal immediately preceding the donation which must be free from fat. A list of suggested foods is supplied to donors by the Blood Donor Clinics.

Do I Have to Undress at the Clinic?

No. Since the blood is taken from the vein on the inside of the elbow, the donor is only required to bare the arm.

Is It Very Painful to Donate Blood?

No. The area from which the blood is drawn is anaesthetized.

How Long Does This Take?

It takes only a few minutes for the donation to be given, but the person remains on the couch for about five minutes afterwards. Tea, coffee, or milk is served with doughnuts and cookies in the refreshment room. Usually it is possible to leave the clinic within 45 minutes.

How is the Blood Taken and by Whom?

Every clinic is equipped with beds. The donor rests on his back with one arm outstretched sideways. A nurse cleans the inside of the elbow with antiseptic ready for a physician, who first injects a small amount of anesthetic and then introduces a hollow needle into the vein. The blood then flows through a tube into a sterile bottle. When the needle is removed, a sterile dressing is applied.

What is Done With My Blood Afterwards?

The blood is processed as speedily as possible. The serum is withdrawn and after the necessary tests are made, is pooled and dried. It is the dried serum, packed and hermetically sealed in tin, which is sent Overseas.

How Many Clinics are Now in Operation in Canada?

Thirty-seven established clinics are operating throughout the Dominion, while two mobile units are at work in Ontario. These units visit centres where there are no regular clinics.

When Did This Service Commence?

The Canadian Red Cross Blood Donor Service was instituted in January, 1940.

How Many Donations Were Made During 1942?

Over 181,000.

Does the Red Cross Society Know How Much Blood Will Be Needed?

No. The demand will jump enormously when the Canadian Army goes into action. In January, 1942, the objective was 2,000 donations per week. By the close of the year the Red Cross was receiving 8,000 donations per week.

Has an Objective Been Set for 1943?

Yes, because of anticipated needs the Red Cross is asking the people of Canada to provide 12,000 donations each week.

Is Dried Serum as Good as a Direct Transfusion?

In many cases it is much better. No blood typing is necessary, and since it will keep for many years it can be stored until required. Distilled water is all that is required to be added to the dried serum to bring it back to the equivalent of whole blood. It can be used in places such as bombed areas and near the front line, where it would be impossible to give a direct transfusion.

Does the Red Cross Society Pay Anything to Blood Donors?

No, absolutely not. Otherwise it would not be a Voluntary Blood Donor Service.

Are Blood Donors Recognized?

After the third and subsequent donations you can easily spot donors by the badge they wear.

How Often are Blood Donations Made?

Not less than every two months. The blood given is fully replaced in volume and content very soon after each donation. Several men in Canada have already given twelve donations, while some have given twenty donations.

How Do I Become a Donor?

Communicate with any of the following local committees and they will be pleased to give you further information—Wm. Hewson, Chairman; R. C. Bourne, Harold B. Matchett, Herb Betzner, Erwin Phillips, K. C. Baxter, Russell Terry.

THREE OLD BUDDIES

George thought Sid was still in Australia!

"Chummy" Warner's Son-Law

How it came about was like this: George is married to a daughter of Mr. "Chummy" Warner, well-known Weston swimmer and sportsman—and father of "Muffy" Warner, Weston's best Soccer centre-half since the last war—who emigrated to Canada a good many years ago.

When Sid Reitsma went to Canada he found employment—as a grower of roses—near Chummy, who was an old-time friend.

Well, when George Robertson came on leave to Weston, to see his brother-in-law, Mr. Bill Warner, of Drove-road, he quickly learned that Sid Reitsma was living in the town. Three Hours' Walk Passing the Town Hall, he asked a newsVendor if he knew Bus Driver Reitsma—and, if so, where he was likely to meet him. The upshot was that the Canadian patiently waited three hours at the Town Hall for Sid to appear.

God! they found so much to talk about that for the rest of his life George scarcely left Sid. He even travelled on the buses which the other drove on country routes, so that memories of other days might be conjured up afresh.

There was a memorable drowning rescue that was recalled, when Chummy's youngest son got in difficulties when swimming in Lake Ontario, and his sister, trying to pilot a raft to him, was seized with cramp. It was Sid who plunged in and brought the lad ashore.

Bootleggers:

And another incident, too, which gave them something to chuckle over, was on an occasion when George and Sid were riding in a small car across the lake, open spaces.

Another bigger car passed them, and Sid challenged George, who was at the wheel, not to let his old car be beaten. So down went the accelerator, and for miles after miles they trailed the other car.

Suddenly they saw something fly from the car in front, but paid little attention—until other similar objects were buried from the car.

George pulled up with a jerk.

"Do you see what they're throwing out?" he asked. "Why, it's bottles of whisky!"

True enough, it was! Turning back in their tracks, they collected eight or nine bottles.

The occupants of the front car were bootleggers, and they were scared with the fear that Sid and George were the "flying squad" on their track.

FLOWER LOVER

ney E. H. Lancaster, C. W. Elmore, Coroner, Beamsville, held a preliminary investigation and stated that an inquest would be held.

Dr. Clark had practiced his profession of dentistry for 33 years, retiring from active work a year ago last February. After graduating from the Royal College of Dental Surgeons, Toronto, in 1888, he began the practice of his profession in Hamilton and resided there until 1901-13 years.

He then moved to the Township of North Grimsby, having married Miss Maude Hare, daughter of Thomas (the Clerk of North Grimsby) and Mrs. Hare. The old home was a fine stone house about 100 yards west of Kerman Avenue, which burned down 23 years ago, at which time Dr. Clark and his family took up residence on Paton street, and he opened up practice in Grimsby.

After his marriage he continued his practice in Hamilton for 18 years and 6 days a week, 32 weeks in the year he made a return trip on the old H. G. & B. He estimated that in that time he had travelled a distance of 200,000 miles.

Since Dr. Clark entered the profession at that very conservative period when the general rule was to pull no tooth that showed the slightest sign of life dentistry has gone through many phases. Only one of the important developments has been the use of X-ray photography which, though not infallible, has often proved a valuable ally by uncovering hidden lesions and thus opening the way for effective treatment.

For many years Dr. Clark served on the examining board of the Royal College of Dental Surgery. In 1910 he was elected to the Board of Directors for a two-year term, and for the following two years held office as President.

Flowers were his main hobby and at the old Hare Homestead he developed a wonderful tulip plantation. At one time he had as many as 120,000 tulips in bloom at once. More than one traffic tie-up has taken place in front of that tulip bed on a Sunday, caused by thousands of sightseers who came to see the glorious spectacle. There is little doubt but what the Doctor's hobby gave a great impetus to the growing of this Queen of Spring Flowers far beyond the Niagara Peninsula.

His recreations were bowling and curling, a natural thing, as he was of Scottish descent. He was a valued member of the old Grimsby Curling Club, now non-existent, many years. As a bowler, it was more than recreation it was real fun. He belonged to the first bowling club in Grimsby when the first greens in this district were laid out behind the present Hotel Grimsby and he bowled with all the other clubs that came into existence since that time. He participated in many of the large bowling tournaments of the Ontario Bowling Association, but never was fortunate enough to win the Bootleg Doubles. It is only a few brief weeks ago that he was a guest at the Lions Club, when the Good Citizenship Medal was presented to his very dear friend, Rev. J. Allan Ballard, and at that time reminiscing to some extent upon the great bowling games that he had participated in.

While never a man who sought civic honors, yet he was for many years a member of the Board of Education, and for seven was Chairman of the Board. He also had been president of the Grimsby Horticultural Society.

A 33 degree Mason, he was a life member of Murton Lodge of Perfection, Scottish Rite; Rose Croix Chapter, and Hamilton Consistory. He was also a member of Hindoo Kosha Grotto, of Hamilton, and oldest Past Master of Temple Masonic Lodge, Hamilton.

Surviving besides his wife are two daughters, Mrs. M. S. Neiles, Grimsby, and Mrs. Wm. Failey, New York City; a brother, Robert Clark of Morriston, and a sister, Mrs. Annie McKenzie, also of Morriston.

The Funeral

Many friends from Hamilton and other points attended the funeral of Dr. Donald Clark, held from his home Sunday afternoon under Masonic direction. Among them were members of several Hamilton Masonic bodies, including: Temple Lodge, Murton Lodge of Perfection, Scottish Rite, Rose Croix Chapter and Hamilton Consistory. Floral tributes were very numerous.

Services were conducted by Rev. J. A. Ballard, of St. Andrew's Anglican Church. The Masonic commitment was conducted by officers of the order.

Honorary pallbearers were: Dr. D. G. McWraith, J. A. Malcolmson, W. Valla and Charles Mitchell, all of Hamilton; Hugh Campbell and B. W. Graham, of Grimsby.

Active bearers were: J. A. Jackson, J. H. Gibson, Dr. H. H. Brownlee, C. W. F. Carpenter, J. G. Walker and James Atchison, all of Grimsby. Interment was made in St. Andrew's Churchyard.

ad to report that the Tag Day was an enormous success. The total sum realized was $252.36. This was not all Grimsby. $26.27 came from Winona, where Brigadier Armand A. Smith was in charge, assisted by Postmaster Barnard and pupils from the public school.

At Grimsby Beach $27.25 was collected by Miss Cline and her taggers, Helen Hawley, Verna Elley, Mary Boyd, Jean Pinder, Kay Yeager, Lillian Griffith, Ruth Clark and Betty Hildreth.

On top of the mountain Wm. Palmer succeeded in collecting $9.35.

The committee are very appreciative of the help given them by Gordon Hannah, George Kanacher and Lincoln Loyalist Chapter, D.D.E.

Girl taggers in Grimsby were arranged for by Principal P. V. Smith of Grimsby High School and were as follows: Doris Dipper, Wilda Morris, Helen Scammell, Shirley Mason, Virginia Hewson, Mrs. J. R. fruit crop will not be so heavy as in other years. They will be kept busy, however, and their labours are sincerely appreciated.

"We are trying to make Nixon Hall a real home for those young ladies. Meals and menus are planned by Miss Frances Aitken, a graduate of the University of Ontario in home economics. Miss Eleanor Richardson is in charge of leisure time activities.

The girls will find plenty of relaxation in swimming and lawn games such as quoits and deck tennis. Indoors, for rainy days, we have planned darts, chess and many interesting games. The girls will be hostesses at a dance every month to members of the armed forces — mostly soldiers and air force men from Dunnville and Niagara-on-the-Lake."

Labor secretary of the camp is Miss Norma Routliffe, who will be in charge of the girls while at work, and who will look after their records for the government.

"This is a beautiful old house, and I am sure the girls will be happy here." Miss MacDermid concluded. "The house is snuggled under the brow of the mountain, and is surrounded by beautiful gardens and stately trees. There are spacious verandas for those seeking cool shade, and inviting lawns where a healthy coat of tan can be cultivated. It is everyone's ideal of a home."

holding chalky, emaciated babies. Some sucked at dry breast; others grimaced painfully from the torture of hunger. They were too weak to cry. Many with eruptions all over their bodies had their hands tied to prevent them from tearing at their skin.

"We delivered a few ounces of oil to Helene Souterius who appeared wrapped in a horrible covering. She had traded all her furniture for food on the black market and had torn most of the boards from her floor for heating.

Her three children lay weeping in a corner. The week before her husband and one child had died and the corpse remained for three days. I learned later Helene had become insane.

"Irene Manoski was sitting with her starving family. In five days she had lost her husband, two of her children and one grandchild. Sophie Nioserizou had five children swollen with disease. A young widow lay deathly sick in her bed, holding a dying child in her arms. These are typical examples. Charn-lambous Potodes had planted an acre of potatoes. Three days before he was to harvest, a squad of German soldiers arrived with a portable kitchen and, singing gaily, dug, peeled, cooked and canned the potatoes. Potodes and his entire family later died of starvation. A nurse went to the Germans to plead for milk. An officer replied:

We haven't enough for our Luftwaffe, so obviously there is none for the civilian population."
